ALL EUROPEAN FINAL AT THE EUROPEAN COURT OF JUSTICE, LUXEMBOURG ON 7 MARCH 2003

Law students who have made their way through a tough selection among 84 teams since September when the competition was launched will today plead before the judges of the Court of Justice and Court of First Instance. The 84 teams represent 29 nationalities.

The teams who will be competing today are from the UK, USA, Sweden, Germany, Poland and Denmark. They won their respective Regional Finals which were held in January and February in Lisbon, Helsinki, Riga and Bratislava.

The Final is the last stage of this year's competition in the world's largest Moot court in European law.

The winners will receive prizes, including internships with European Institutions or highly respected law firms specialised in European Law.
